

State of Ohio
State Personnel Board of Review

Role and Overview

The State Personnel Board of Review (SPBR) hears appeals from classified employees of state agencies, state universities, county agencies, and general health districts. It is also statutorily responsible for monitoring and assisting Ohio's approximately 220 municipal civil service commissions and personnel boards. Individuals and entities primarily benefiting from these activities include classified civil service employees and agencies, attorneys, and members of the public.

The three members of the board are appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, and serve six-year terms. A staff of eight assists the board, which has an annual budget of approximately $1.1 million. More information regarding the State Personnel Board of Review is available at <http://pbr.ohio.gov>.

PROGRAM SERIES 01: Classified Employee Administrative Appeals

This program series provides a quasi-judicial forum for appeals filed by covered employees.

Program 01.01: Classified Employee Administrative Appeals

This program consists of adjudication of civil service appeals from employees of state agencies, state universities, county agencies, and general health districts, as well as monitoring and assisting Ohio's approximately 220 municipal civil service commissions and personnel boards. The agency's constitutional authority is derived from Article XV, Section 10 of the Ohio Constitution. The SPBR's statutory authority is principally provided by Ohio Revised Code sections 124.03, 124.34, 124.40, 124.56, and 4167.13.

What the Budget Buys:

- Allows the board to adjudicate the more than 500 cases per year filed by employees of covered entities who have been displaced by removal, layoff, and reorganization.
